

An Introduction to Computational Chemistry and In-silico Visualization

I U P A C

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF
PURE AND APPLIED CHEMISTRY

An OpenLab Workshop for Sub-Saharan Africa Scientists

The workshop will be conducted in Nairobi, Kenya, at two different centres:

Kenyatta University: 7 – 9, September 2015

University of Nairobi: 9 – 11, September 2015

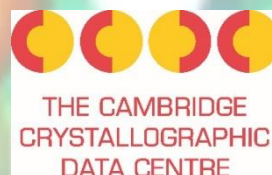

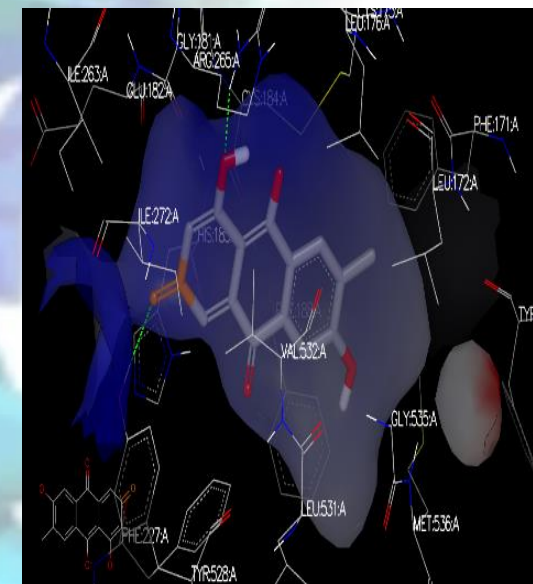

Who should attend the workshop?

Any scientist interested in learning the importance of molecular structure in the chemical enterprises using computational chemistry methods.

How to apply?

E-mail kongamano@ccdc.cam.ac.uk stating how this training workshop is relevant to your study and your preferred venue.

Application Deadline: August 21st, 2015

Seeding Labs

